PDX Alliance for Self-Care is a community-based nonprofit building infrastructure and capacity as we expand our youth education programming. We center BIPoC, LGBTQ2SIA+ and all marginalized folx in our work. As a PDX ASC Graphic Design intern, you will design our digital and print outreach materials for fundraisers, programs, and other events. This includes social media content formatted specifically for Instagram and Facebook. You may also support the Information Technology intern in their efforts to improve our website's design and accessibility. Below is an example of an optimum skill set, but please keep in mind that we are enthusiastic about developing the skills of people who are passionate about building infrastructure for a burgeoning grassroots nonprofit organization:

- Self-directed: Ability to work independently/remotely
- Strong familiarity with the design software of your choice (Illustrator, Photoshop, etc.)
- Ability to collaborate and translate creative vision into technical reality
- Prior experience in communications and/or social media outreach
- Experience in community-based activism/organizing
- Interest in or passion for social justice
- Bonus: Spanish, Swahili, Russian, Vietnamese or Other Language (optional); Web page design/development experience

Additional information:

- You will spend the first week completing your objective and training forms, choosing your projects, and discussing your objectives with the Executive Director. You will also receive training about the organizational culture and mission statement and will have time to familiarize yourself with the work that we do.
- We have an accessible workspace and working remotely is also possible depending on your project.
- This unpaid internship opportunity is designed for school credit and includes reimbursement of authorized project-related expenses.

For Academic Credit:

- Attend all required trainings and events
- Achieve mutually agreed upon goals
- Complete & submit all required paperwork including progress reports, timesheets, & requests for reimbursement
- Meet minimum volunteer hours required
